History

This WILD journey started more than 160 years ago with a pair of Frenchmen – a priest, and an explorer – who dreamed that the goodness of coffee should overflow into Vietnam. Little did they know 135 years later their dream would capture the heart of one wild Australian explorer who invested in the people, terrain/terra and the culture of Vietnam. He desired to present to the world, the best coffee that Vietnam had to offer. He planted many potential seeds over the mountains while watching, cultivating, preparing and waiting for the perfect time. Divinely, he met an untamed pirate from The Bahamas and together, with WILD hearts they started to refine and hone in on an unrestrained taste profile – a development of rare forgotten coffees in Vietnam. Now, after much investing, testing and critiquing, they have chosen their first micro lot to showcase to the world: WILD Heirloom EL1.

It truly represents Vietnam – the coming together of two countries – North and South. Each region being so different. This first bean debuting, represents the two becoming one in perfect harmony made only possible by two WILD men with the creator spirit leaving no rock unturned, putting together all their expertise and hand selecting a bean that celebrates truly the history and future of Vietnam.

This scarce heirloom EL1 is from a protected tribal zone. It is a largely unknown species with African heritage-coupled with Vietnamese DNA. The amalgamation of two untamed beans to birth one WILD taste of perfection.
